

JIRD® Clinical Perspectives

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

The Journal of Implant and Reconstructive Dentistry® (JIRD) disseminates original articles about practical applications of dental implant and reconstructive therapies. Clinicians from around the globe read the journal both in print and online. Clinical Perspectives is a featured department within JIRD that disseminates well documented clinical case presentations with photography and/or video format.

Clinical Perspectives is perpetually archived on the e-JIRD website, therefore maintaining an audience of practitioners from around the globe. JIRD's Advisory Board, which includes some of the foremost leaders in the field of implant dentistry, helps to ensure that the journal content meets the highest professional standards. The editorial staff works closely with authors throughout the preparation of their clinical case presentation to ensure that it conforms to JIRD's editorial style.

To submit a clinical case for consideration, please refer to the List of Preferred Images, and the Clinical Case Presentation Template.
